On April 18th, 1930, the BBC's news announcer had nothing to communicate. "There is no news," was the script of the 20:45 news bulletin, before piano music was played for the rest of the 15-minute segment. The wireless service then returned to broadcasting from the Queen's Hall in Langham Place, London, where the Wagner opera Parsifal was being performed.

"Lord God, help us to remember the sacrifice of the first ANZACs, the generations of men, women and children who have died in the cause of peace. Help us to remember those who bear the scars of their service, physical, mental and spiritual. Help us to remember those who had to say goodbye: widows and widowers, girlfriends and boyfriends."

A prayer for
ANZAC Day

Early Anzac marches from 1916 ended at the Cathedral

ST. JAMES- CATHEDRAL.

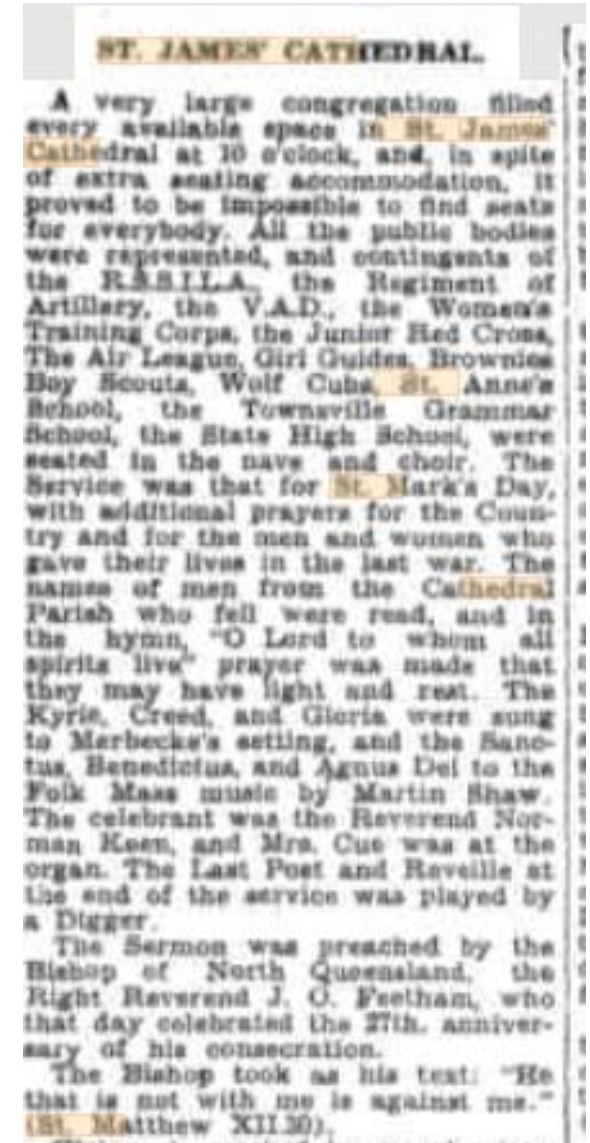

A very large congregation filled every available space in St. James' Cathedral at 10 o'clock, and in spite of extra seating accommodation, it proved to be impossible to find seats for everybody. All the public bodies were represented, and contingents of the RSSILA, the Regiment of Artillery, the VAD, the Women's Training Corps, the Junior Red Cross, The Air League, Girl Guides, Brownies, Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, St. Anne's School, the Townsville Grammar School, the State High School, were seated in the nave and choir. The Service was that for St. Mark's Day, with additional prayers for the Country and for the men and women who gave their lives in the last war. The names of men from the Cathedral Parish who fell were read, and in the hymn, 'O Lord to whom all spirits live' prayer was made that they may have light and rest. The Kyrie, Creed, and Gloria were sung to Merbecke's setting, and the Sanctus, Benedictus, and Agnus Dei to the Folk Mass music by Martin Shaw.

The celebrant was the Reverend Norman Keen, and Mrs. Cue was at the organ. The Last Post and Reveille at the end of the service was played by a Digger.

The Sermon was preached by the Bishop of North Queensland, the Right Reverend J. O. Feetham, who that day celebrated the 27th. Anniversary of his consecration.

The Bishop took as his text: 'He that is not with me is against me.'

(St. Matthew XII.30).

Simnel Cake

Thanks to Bernice, we celebrated Mothering Sunday with Simnel Cake

The light fruit cake is distinguished by layers of almond paste or marzipan, typically one in the middle and one on top, and a set of eleven balls made of the same paste.

Ingredients

2 tbs icing sugar (to dust)

500g marzipan

225g unsalted butter, softened

1 cup caster sugar

5 eggs

2 lemons, zested

2 oranges, zested

1 1/2 cups plain flour

2 tsp ground cinnamon

1 1/3 cups sultanas

2/3 cup currants

1/2 cup glace cherries, halved

2 tbs apricot jam

Method

Preheat oven to 130°C fan-forced.

Lightly grease a 20cm (5cm deep) round cake pan and line base and side with baking paper, extending paper 5cm above edge.

Lightly dust a clean surface with icing sugar, then roll out one-third of the marzipan to a 5mm-thick 19cm circle. Set aside.

Using an electric mixer, beat butter and sugar in a large bowl until well combined.

Add 4 eggs and lemon and orange zest, then beat until well combined.

Add flour and cinnamon, then beat until just combined. Stir in sultanas, currants and cherries. Spoon half the mixture into pan and level surface. Cover with marzipan circle, then top with remaining mixture and level top. Bake for 2 hours 15 minutes or until cake is well risen and firm to the touch. Cool in pan for 10 minutes before turning out on a wire rack to cool completely.

Heat jam in microwave until runny.

Brush top of cake. Roll out half of the remaining marzipan to a 20cm circle. Place on top of cake and press firmly, then use fingers to crimp edges to decorate.

Mark marzipan in a criss-cross pattern with the back of a knife.

Roll remaining marzipan into 11 balls. Lightly beat remaining egg in a small bowl. Brush marzipan layer with egg. Place marzipan balls around edge of cake, then brush with egg.

Installation of the 106th Archbishop of Canterbury

The Installation of the 106th Archbishop of Canterbury, Sarah Mullally, took place at Canterbury Cathedral on Wednesday, 25 March 2026, the Feast of the Annunciation

To watch the full Ceremony formally installing Sarah Mullally as Archbishop of Canterbury

What is ST AUGUSTINE'S CHAIR?

The installation – formally called the “enthronement” – is when the Archbishop of Canterbury will be “taking her seat”. In fact, two seats.

The Chair of St Augustine is the primatial seat of the Church of England. The chair that you see today was made in the 13th century, but its authority goes back even further to the 6th century, when St Augustine was sent by Pope Gregory the Great to establish the English Church. It has carried national and international significance ever since.

First, the Archbishop is installed on the Diocesan throne as Bishop of the Diocese of Canterbury – the oldest diocese in the English Church.

Then she is installed on St Augustine's Chair as Primate of All England – the “first bishop” in the country. This enthronement also represents her inauguration as the spiritual leader of the worldwide Anglican Communion.

A PRAYER FOR THE INSTALLATION OF THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

Almighty God,
you call your Church in every age
to proclaim the gospel of Christ:
look with mercy upon your servant Sarah,
and grant that, as deacon,
she may care for those in need,
as priest, sustain us with the ministry
of word and sacrament,
and as bishop, guard the faith
and build up the body of Christ in holiness.
Give her wisdom and kindness
that as archbishop, she may promote unity,
seek truth, and lead us in the way
of righteousness and peace;
through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Five Sub-Deans

Within the limits of this book it is possible only to write very brief notices of those of our former Archdeacons and Sub-Deans who are still serving on earth. I write these five of those who have served the Cathedral during my time since 1913.

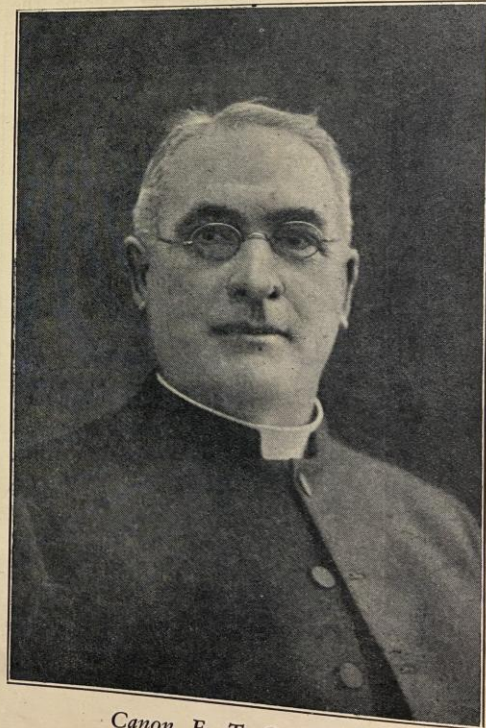

J.O.N.Q.

Edward Travers Crozier, T.C.D., M.A., answered the call of Bishop Frodsham to come and preside as Warden over the Brotherhood of St. Barnabas in 1902. His friends in Ireland with difficulty allowed him to leave them. That is seen from the fact that he served curacies at St. Luke's, Belfast, and at St. George's, Dublin, between 1890 and 1903 and was then successively incumbent of the same parishes. In coming to North Queensland he brought the good-will of

Canon W. H. W. Williams

William Henry Walter Williams came to North Queensland in 1904 and worked for two years as Mission Chaplain. From 1906 to 1908 he was Rector of Hughenden. In 1907 he became a Canon of St. James' Cathedral and from 1908 to 1913 he was Sub-Dean. From 1910 to 1913 he was also Archdeacon. He has very kindly contributed to this book an able sketch of the Episcopate of Bishop Frodsham. It is most valuable historically. Resigning his offices in N.Q. at the end of 1913 Mr. Williams returned to England and was for 13 years Vicar of Midsomer Norton. In 1926 he became Rector of Hemsworth, and Canon of Wakefield in the following year. As one of the Bishop's Commissaries in England he has continued to render service of great value to this Diocese.

Canon E. T. Crozier

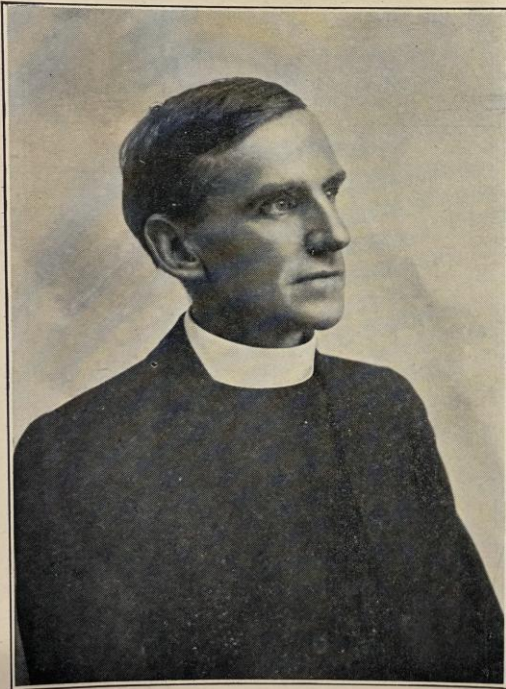

Until 1965, the Bishop took on the role of Dean, assisted by the sub-Dean

Excerpts from "North Queensland Jubilee Book" 1878-1928
Edited by the Rt. Rev. J. O. Feetham,
Bishop of North Queensland
& Rev W. V. Rymer

Dublin with him. This is permanently recorded for us by an inscription, on a Chalice of great beauty in the Church of Holy Trinity, Herberton, thus:—Sodalibus sacra inter Australiae Virgulta ferentibus Edwardi Travers Crozier Amici Dublinenses MDCCCXCIX. (The Dublin friends of Edward Travers Crozier to the Fraternity which carries sacred ministries into the Australian Bush 1909). Mr. Crozier became a Canon of St. James' Cathedral on his arrival, and for three years worked as Warden of the Brotherhood. In 1911 he became Rector of Mackay and in 1914 Sub-Dean of St. James' Cathedral and also Archdeacon. He returned to England in 1918 and is now Vicar of Midsomer Norton. His friends in the Irish Auxiliary continued to help us generously down to the year 1926.

James Roy Norman, M.A., a scholar of distinction, resigned his Chaplaincy of Trinity College, Melbourne, in order to become the first Rector of Proserpine in 1910. In 1913 he became Rector of Mackay and in 1914 Canon of St. James' Cathedral. From 1918 to 1922 he was Sub-Dean of Townsville. Since then he has been Director of Education in the Diocese of Newcastle and Rector of Wickham. His attainments as a Scholar in Classics, History and Law were of the greatest value to the Diocese, in the work of the Synod and in the founding of the schools. He continues to work for us as Examining Chaplain and as expert adviser in many subjects of which he is master. In 1926 he compiled the Service for the Consecration of the New Holy Trinity Church at Mackay. It has become the standard for such ceremonies in Australia. To this book he has contributed a valuable article on the Society of the Sacred Advent.

Canon J. R. Norman

Canon B. P. Robin

Bryan Percival Robin, M.A., joined the Bush Brotherhood in 1914 and served in it till 1920. In 1921 he became Rector of Hughenden, in 1922 Canon and Sub-Dean of St. James' Cathedral. In 1925 he became Warden of St. John's College in the University of Queensland and Canon of Brisbane Cathedral. His literary work has been of great value to this Diocese. "The Sundowner" which he published in 1921 has been praised by the best critics as conveying much of the mysterious charm of the Australian Bush. It has had no small effect in attracting men from Home to join the Bush Brotherhoods. One article—"A Pagan Epiphany"—is by the author's permission included in this book. The readers of the Jubilee Book will also be grateful to Canon Robin for his article on the Brotherhood of St. Barnabas. He is one of the Bishop's Commissaries.

Five Sub-Deans

Robert William Haines Moline, M.A., M.C., joined the Bush Brotherhood in 1922. He became Warden in 1925 and Archdeacon in 1926. In 1927 he became also Sub-Dean of St. James' Cathedral, an office which he resigned at the end of 1928. He has become Vicar of North Cadbury, in the Diocese of Salisbury.

Eyre-street, North Ward, would appear to have become something in the nature of a sanctuary for goats. During the past week at dusk it has been a common sight to see kids gambolling about on the footboards of residents' motor cars drawn up outside their gates, while on Wednesday evening a well grown wether was to be seen standing on top of the bonnet of a car.
